"No" Is a Complete Sentence (WebEx)
Wednesday, September 1 (2:00p-3:00p)
When you say “yes”, what are you really saying “no” to? Far too many times we neglect the important things in life, by taking on too many menial tasks. This course is designed to give participants an opportunity to review their value system and what it means to say “no”. Additionally, others may try to make you feel guilty for saying “no”, but equipped with the knowledge from this session, others’ guilt won’t get too far.

New Supervisor Series- Thursdays September 2-October 28
Learning to Manage (WebEx)
Thursday, September 2 (8:30a-10:30a)

Making the transition from doing work yourself to managing others can feel overwhelming. How do you set yourself up for success? This course is designed to help minimize the stress & walk participants through management principles by targeting five specific areas. Participants will learn to successfully handle staff, projects, performance, conflict & even accountability, while continuously improving as a supervisor.

Creative Thinking & Innovation (Facebook Live)
Thursday, September 2 (12:00p-12:30p)
Creative thinking and innovation are vital components in both our personal and professional lives. However, many people feel as though they are lacking in creativity. What most of us do not recognize is that we are creative on a daily basis, whether it’s picking out what clothes to wear in the morning or stretching a tight budget at work. While these tasks may not normally be associated with creativity, there is a great deal of creativity involved to get those jobs done. While some people seem to be simply bursting with creativity, others find it a struggle to think outside the square. If you fall into the latter category, it is important to understand that boosting your creative and innovative abilities takes practice. Recognizing and honing your own creative potential is a process.

Being Civil in a Diverse Workplace
Wednesday, September 8 (2:00p-3:00p)
It’s not always a given that you will like the people that you work with, but it is still necessary to be civil to one another in order to maintain an environment conducive for working. In this session, participants will explore various techniques for overcoming conflict, bullying and rudeness. Cultural sensitivity and its necessity in the workplace will also be covered in this interactive session.

New Supervisor Series- Thursdays September 2-October 28
Supervisor Communication Skills (WebEx)
Thursday, September 9 (8:30a-10:30a)
In general, there are four basic purposes of communication: to inform, to persuade, to ask a question, or to learn. It's as important to know what you don't want as it is to know what you do want. This course covers the importance of assertive speaking; techniques for holding others accountable; and creating and practicing equitable compromise.

Let’s Talk About Privilege (WebEx)
Thursday, September 9 (2:00p-3:00p)
Privilege is a special right or advantage available to a particular person or group. Having privilege does not mean that someone has not experienced hardships, but it does mean having unearned benefits received by nature of one's identity. Identities including but not limited to sexual orientation, religion, socioeconomic status, language, ability, and yes...race. Privilege is a tricky subject to talk about. Thinking about privilege and challenging it is an ongoing exercise. Let’s talk about it.
Everyone Communicates Few Connect
Tuesday, September 14 (2:00p-3:00p)
World-renowned leadership expert John C. Maxwell says if you want to succeed, you must learn how to connect with people. And while it may seem like some folks are just born with it, the fact is anyone can learn how to make every communication an opportunity for a powerful connection. In Everyone Communicates, Few Connect, Maxwell shares the Five Principles and Five Practices to develop the crucial skill of connecting, including: Finding common ground, keeping your communication simple, capturing people's interest, inspiring people and staying authentic in all your relationships.

Building Self-Esteem and Assertiveness (WebEx)
Wednesday, September 15 (10:00a-11:00a)
Building your self-esteem is essential for confidence and success, and it all begins with you! Of all the judgments you make in life, none is as important as the one you make about yourself. Without some measure of self-worth, life can be enormously painful. During this course, participants will discover some simple techniques that dramatically change how they feel about themselves. Participants will discuss the importance of learning self-acceptance and asserting oneself.

Increasing Your Influence (Facebook Live)
Thursday, September 16 (12:00p-12:30p)
