

Division Description

In November 2020, the citizens of Columbus voted to approve an amendment to the City Charter to establish a civilian police review board and a Department of the Inspector General for the Columbus Division of Police.

The initiative was one of several recommendations presented to the Mayor by the Columbus Community Safety Advisory Commission, which was tasked with reviewing Columbus Division of Police recruitment, training, policies, and procedures through the lens of 21st century policing.

The Department of the Inspector General exists as a city-funded, operationally-independent, professionally-staffed, public-facing entity. This department is empowered to participate fully in criminal or administrative investigations involving Division of Police personnel, exercising certain duties and responsibilities. This includes the authority to develop administrative rules; receive, initiate, review, and cause the investigation of complaints of misconduct; make recommendations on resolutions of complaints; make recommendations on discipline; and in specific circumstances, subpoena witnesses and evidence.

Division Mission

To enhance transparency and build trust through the objective and independent oversight of the Columbus Police Department.
