NEW BUSINESS

DUE PROCESS HEARINGS

The first complaint on the agenda was filed by E. Scott Shaw/Tompkins Avenue Properties, Inc. alleging that Stephen Novotni, violated the City of Columbus Building Code. Mr. Shaw stated the he signed a contract with Mr. Novotni and gave him a check to begin work at 289 E. Tompkins Avenue and that Mr. Novotni did not finish the job. He stated that he tried to reach him on several occasions and that Mr. Novotni did not return his calls or emails. He also explained that Mr. Novotni did work for him at another location and did not charge him, but, still did not complete the work at 289 E. Tompkins Avenue.

Mr. Novotni explained to the Board about a personal incident that took place during this time that prevented him from completing the job. After hearing further testimony and evidence presented by both parties Sam Mascari made a motion that there was no violation to the City of Columbus Code. Dave O'Carroll seconded.
