January 1, 2012 thru March 31, 2012 Performance Report
Executive Summary:

a. Target Geography
The Columbus and Franklin County Consortium will target 55 Census Tracts within the City of Columbus and Franklin County, Ohio in an integrated, comprehensive effort to stabilize and revitalize neighborhoods. These tracts were selected on the basis of the HUD Scores, the City’s market study results, and proposed projects submitted by members of the Consortium. HUD has assigned each Census Tract two scores based on foreclosures and vacancies, labeled “Foreclosure Risk Score” and “Foreclosure-Vacancy Risk Score.” As required in the NSP2 Correction NOFA, the higher of the two Risk Scores is listed for each Tract (See Appendix 2). As shown on the list, the combined Risk Score is an average of 19; more than the minimum 18 Risk Score threshold established by the NSP2 Program. The tracts do not include all areas of Columbus and Franklin County in need and that score greater than 18, but a subset selected by the Consortium. The selected areas are large enough to make a viable impact on the community at large, but small enough to not outstrip the collective abilities of the Consortium members. The Target Geography is illustrated on Map 1.

b. Market Conditions and Demand Factors
Source: A Housing Market Assessment Of Columbus, Ohio Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) VWB Research (June, 2009) for the City of Columbus, OH.

>(1) In geography as diverse as Franklin County the ability of the market to absorb abandoned and foreclosed housing will vary greatly from one census tract to another and depends on the individual neighborhood within the geography. Both the average quarterly absorption rate of their work due to the accessibility of public transit and automobiles, the need to live in the urban core has dissipated. These issues are discussed in more detail in the next section.
vacant addresses and the quarterly net change in the count of vacant addresses are listed in Appendix 2. Absorption rate does not account for new additions to the vacant address inventory while net change accounts for both absorbed and newly vacated addresses. Quarterly net changes answer the fairly straightforward question &ndash Is the inventory of vacant addresses growing or shrinking, and on average, by how much each quarter? Absorption rate is more context specific. In NSP2 terms, when a low absorption rate is coupled with a large inventory of long-term vacant addresses then demolition is a possible effective strategy. Rising absorption rates coupled with a growing inventory of vacant addresses various financing mechanisms (downpayment assistance, affordability subsidy) may be the best way to help the market reduce the inventory. Data is derived from the United States Postal Service.

> Conclusion: The Consortium will implement particular revitalization strategies in Focus Areas where Census Tract data shows absorption rates are low, net changes are negative and trends show rates continuing to stay low if NSP2 funds are not strategically invested. In those tracts where absorption rates are higher the Consortium will seek to limit resources invested to the greatest extent practicable and apply appropriate strategies to accelerate the reduction of vacant units.

> (2) Overall, like other cities in Ohio, Columbus and Franklin County are experiencing a foreclosure crisis based on multiple underlying factors. Recent reports by Community Research Partners, Rebuild Ohio, Policy Matters Ohio, and the City’s code enforcement officers highlight some of these factors:

&bull Columbus Vacant Housing Annual Report (December 2008) Available on Request

Multiple causes of vacancy and abandonment

Population loss, housing stock deterioration, tax delinquency, subprime and predatory lending, and mortgage foreclosure&mdashthere have been identified in national literature and the Ohio research as factors that lead to, or are indicators of, vacancy and abandonment. They also are signs of a weak housing market, which can be both a cause and a result of vacant and abandoned properties.

Executive Summary:

 evidient across the cities.
>&bull Population loss. From 1970 to 2000, all the study cities, with the exception of Columbus as a whole, had a population loss ranging from about one-fifth to one-third of their 1970 population. During this time, the Columbus &ldquoolder city&rdquo (within the city&rsquoss 1950 boundaries) lost 30% of its population. (Note: Distressed, Destabilized and Potential Recovery Areas are within the &ldquoolder city&rdquo)
>&bull Older housing stock. Older structures are more likely to be vacant and abandoned than newer housing. In Columbus as a whole 44% of the housing stock is 40 years or older. The Columbus &ldquoolder city&rdquo (within the city&rsquoss 1950 boundaries) nearly 75% of the housing is pre-1940.
>&bull Foreclosure and subprime lending. Among the Focus Areas less than an average of 19.67% of the housing was sold at sheriff sale over a five year period and 10.57% of homeowners had ARMs or high rate mortgages.

Conclusion: The data analysis suggests that the source of Columbus’s foreclosure and abandonment problems are not related to over-building or over-valuation of the housing stock, but to underlying economic and population issues, and the prevalence of high cost mortgages. Areas with the lowest economic indicators in the VWB Research Market Study also had the highest foreclosures and vacancies. These neighborhoods have traditionally had lower economic indicators, which would suggest that the population has limited resources and is less likely to avoid foreclosure when facing loss of employment, etc.

> Result: Vacant and Abandoned Structures. The City Code Enforcement Vacant Property Survey (December 2008) reports that there are 5,290 vacant structures in Columbus. Of those, 1,637 vacant structure are in some of the Consortium’s Focus Areas.

> Result: Foreclosed Housing. According to Policy Matters Ohio, foreclosure filings in Columbus and Franklin County annually have more than doubled since 2000. The number of foreclosure filings per year is continuing to increase. In 2008, 9,307 filings were made.

>(3) The income characteristics and cost burden of households in the target geography

The data demonstrates that there are significant numbers of households in the selected Census Tracts that qualify for NSP2-assisted housing. Many of these households are cost burdened, particularly renters. The need for subsidy to make housing affordable to low, moderate and middle income households is clearly illustrated in the charts above. Therefore, quality housing with subsidy will be a beneficial strategy for the Consortium.

> (4) Factors contributing to neighborhood decline and instability in the NSP2 Focus Areas can be described according to the Neighborhood Typologies

> A. AT RISK Focus Areas. The Market Study characterized At-Risk neighborhoods as having housing values that were steady or in line with the overall market correction, very few vacant properties and few properties at sheriff sales. The majority of units are single-family structures with high homeownership rates. They maintain a moderate to high value per square foot when compared to other units in the marketplace and are trending in a sablpvoitveannver tme. Thexitigousngstckint-Rikeghoros istiletaingitsvalendemad.&amp;bp;br/&gA

Executive Summary:

exception exists that homes are reasonably priced and that the community lacks the concentration of declining economic and housing indicators observed in other typologies. Although these markets are stable, little demand exists for new for-sale housing. It is possible that a new home could appraise at or near its actual construction cost, but limited resources and a lack of vacant lots and homes requiring demolition preclude this strategy from serious consideration. The At-Risk neighborhoods have a fairly low level of demand for additional > rental product.

>B. POTENTIAL RECOVERY Focus Areas. The Market Study identified three areas within the City of Columbus that are ripe for recovery. These are now a primary focus of NSP1 and NSP2 expenditures for redevelopment. Although these areas have very high foreclosure, vacancy, and homeownership rates, each is identified in the Market Study as having the most potential for a successful and permanent transformation. They have already received significant investments from various partners and, going forward, will include a sizable leveraging of funds. The three areas are also similar due to their close proximity to downtown and the existence of growing employment centers, ongoing City economic development investment, and mass-transit, biking and walking opportunities to jobs and community amenities.

> Although these neighborhoods are very similar to those in the Distressed typology, the critical difference is the impact of existing investments by the City of Columbus and other anchor investors that could have the effect of accelerating revitalization of these neighborhoods. Strategies that are recommended by the Study for these neighborhoods include the use of code enforcement to pursue blighted property owners, strategic acquisition, rehabilitation and infill construction and addressing infrastructure needs of the area. Even in Potential Recovery, demand will still be limited and typical home prices will be in the $90,000 to $120,000 range. Demand for new rental housing is limited, but there is considerable demand for upgrading existing rental housing.

>C. DESTABILIZING Focus Areas. The study identifies areas with an established and historically stable housing market, but a need for targeted investment to stop market decline. These areas have higher homeownership rates, tend to be more suburban in character, and are in a mixture of different local jurisdictions. One advantage of the Consortium in place, is multiple local jurisdictions will plan and work together to redevelop impacted areas that fall on the boundaries of the different governmental entities. These areas fall within the boundaries of the City of Columbus, several townships, the City of Whitehall, and the City of Reynoldsburg.

>D. DISTRESSED Focus Areas. The NSP Market Study identifies several areas that exhibit the highest foreclosure and vacancy rates in the City. The areas are located within the Columbus area (pre-1950 boundary) and have a deteriorated market. At the present time, tax abatement areas exist in 9 of the 10 neighborhoods in this category. The distress of these neighborhoods demonstrates need for motivated demolished to the City hasat hnd.nbsp;Vigilantcodeenforcementandannointitigatedvrselandusedspovidea viiblebenientvibletrates.nbs; Mt of the assslnef

Executive Summary:

1. From a strategy of acquisition, securing of property or demolition and land banking until sufficient consolidation of sites can occur to do something of scale. These neighborhoods would also benefit from quality rental housing. Home prices range from $10,000 to $80,000 and many would benefit from some repair. These are areas where significant price discounts will be needed to spur the market.

>E. Additional Factors: Most of the sites in the NSP2 Focus Areas are located within the Columbus Public School (CPS) District. School performance within CPS varies with some neighborhoods having high performing schools and modern facilities and other neighborhoods having significant challenges and older facilities. CPS is in the process of upgrading its facilities and it is hoped that physical upgrades along with other interventions will bring all schools up to a higher standard. While this upgrade is in process, it must be remembered that there is ample new housing available in the City of Columbus, as well as other municipalities, that are outside the CPS district and have an achievable, non-subsidized price point. Land use patterns have been driven by a model that has made it easy to built inexpensive homes farther away from the core, despite the hidden expenses associated with extending services and infrastructure. Additionally, due to spending constraints, the City of Columbus cannot staff the Code Enforcement Office at a level to be proactive rather than reactive to the expanding issue of vacant properties in the City.

>In Franklin County, much of the foreclosure statistics originate from new build homes in the outer ring suburbs which were sold to homebuyers with marginal economic profiles by using adjustable rate mortgages. As interest rates on these loans increased, a wave of household was unable to make the increased mortgage payments and a first wave of foreclosures hit. As a significant number of homes went into foreclosure, market prices in these subdivisions declined making low downpayment borrowers unable to sell their homes for what they owed. This led to a second wave of foreclosures.

>(5) NSP2 activities most likely to stabilize the target geography.

>Several strategies are recommended by the authors of the Market Study based on the data and a review of best practices from across the country. The Consortium will be implementing several of these strategies in order to build the housing market and achieve stable and viable neighborhoods. The Consortium will make strategic investments of NSP2 funds and other available resources that impact each Focus Area as a unique submarket. Each of the 16 Focus areas, with its designated typology, brings unique assets, liabilities, trends, etc. as identified in market study data, neighborhood planning and recommendations of customized strategies.

>A. AT RISK. These are neighborhoods that have not yet begun any significant level of decline, but due to a preponderance of high risk mortgages, slow to flat economic growth and an aging housing stock, could experience decline in the near future. An aggressive policy of codeenforcementthekpaceiheA-Riskneighborhoodstoseurethatdeferred maintenance issuesdo not lead to declininghousing values and aloss ofmarket desirability. A segmentof thepopulation hasfixed or moderateincome, so foreclosure prevention programs will be critical to keeping these areas stable. Some acquisition and rehabilitation will be used to restore the proverbial &ldquo;bad apple on the block&rdquo; and protect housing values of neighboring residents. Selective demolition may be a useful strategy, if one or two nuisance properties exist that are adversely affecting the perception of the area. These could be re-used as green space or transferred as side lots to neighbors.

Executive Summary:

>B. POTENTIAL RECOVERY. Demographically, these neighborhoods appear very similar to those in the Distressed typology. They have one critical difference, however, in that investments already made by the City of Columbus could accelerate revitalization of these neighborhoods. These investments will continue moving the neighborhood towards a tipping point into stabilization. Housing units must be focused near each other and should capitalize on existing amenities and investment both in and around the community.

>C. DESTABILIZING. These communities are experiencing a decrease in housing value per square foot, vacant properties are becoming... more prevalent and the economic diversity is widespread, but trending down. The neighborhoods in this category are becoming more frequent foreclosure targets in the area leading to an increased number of vacant properties. Property values in the area are beginning to decline although some areas remain stable. Useful strategies in these areas include code enforcement, homebuyer assistance and foreclosure prevention efforts. For those areas showing signs of distress, these strategies should be pursued more aggressively. Removal of blighted structures with selective demolition can help improve the situation. These neighborhoods have been the site of recent tax credit developments. Home prices in these areas vary from $14,000 to $120,000 per unit. There are newer housing subdivisions offering larger homes and attached garages that are selling for $160,000 to $180,000. For example, in the North Central area, Columbus Collaborative member MiraCit Development Corporation has developed and sold more than 20 &ldquo;green&rdquo homes in the last two years to a mix of affordable and market rate buyers. These homes follow Enterprise Community&rsquos green build standards and have resulted in substantial savings on utilities for those who have purchased them as well as providing a healthy homes atmosphere.

D. DISTRESSED. These communities have a long history of challenges. Most of the vacant properties are in these neighborhoods that have very high concentrations of poverty. As a part of the NSP 1 strategies, the City Land Bank is actively buying foreclosed upon housing in these areas. It is anticipated that the bulk of these houses will become renovated rental or leased-to-own units. However, City supported non-profit organizations that make up the Community Development Collaborative of Greater Columbus City develop housing for homeownership within these areas. Although sales are difficult and overall demand is weak, these organizations have seen recent success selling houses--particularly to buyers seeking move-up housing from within the neighborhoods.

The first quarter of 2012 was more productive than expected with an exceptionally warm winter. Acquisitions continue on a strategic basis with 3 sites acquired during this period. One contract was completed for the board to code of 19 properties, and the efforts on determining blighted properties continued, and 26 sites were demolished. With good teamwork and effort, the Consortium exceeded the 50% expenditure deadline and all aspects of the program are making good progress. The February 3 Developer meeting was a time to show appreciation for those who were early to exceed the 50% expenditure threshold on their projects, to reflect on the impact our work is having on neighborhoods (with several neighborhoods being mentioned in a local publication as "hot neighborhoods"), and an award for the lowest HERS score in 2011 – 51. Other topics at the developer meeting included; presentations from two lenders (one of whom, Huntington Bank, is now offering its portfolio lending product to all NSP homes), green landscaping, Tattletale Alarms and Developer Best Practices.

Activity Progress Narrative:
After a very wet fall, we have been fortunate to have an exceptionally warm winter that allowed most projects to continue in the first quarter of the year. Highlights of the quarter were a ribbon cutting for the four City funded and two County funded homes in American Addition on February 27, along with numerous Habitat wall raisings and dedication ceremonies. Most of the Housing staff attended the first ever Community Development Summit in Columbus on January 24. It was an outstanding program with CDCs sharing best practices and success stories in community development. Plans are underway for a City/County Homeownership Summit to be held in Columbus on April 26, which will be an opportunity to present all City and County funded homeownership opportunities including NSP.
