ONLINE BANKING (OLB)

- Make a transfer to your CME HSA account from your CME checking or regular savings account.
- Use OLB to make a transfer to another financial institution.
- When linking your CME HSA to an external deposit, remember that any funds that go into an HSA are considered a contribution. We suggest linking your CME Advantage Share Savings to your external account instead. This way, you can transfer funds from your HSA to your Advantage Share and have the funds from your Advantage Share sent to your external account.
