

2011 Annual Report
Division of Police
Columbus, Ohio

2011 was a historic year for the Columbus Division of Police. The Ohio Police and Fire's Deferred Retirement Option Plan (DROP) reached the eight-year time limit for those who entered at the onset of the program. As a result, the Division experienced a significant number of retirements in 2011, including the loss of half of the command staff (commanders and above). The lieutenant, sergeant, and officer ranks also experienced many retirements.

Because of the economic conditions of previous years, the hiring of sworn personnel did not keep up with these retirements. As a result, the Division dropped to record low numbers of sworn personnel. The hiring of civilian personnel also did not keep up with demand. Division of Police personnel responded to this challenge with an outstanding work ethic to serve and protect the citizens of Columbus. Division members embraced the core values, mission and goals of the Division, and performed in an exemplary manner the entire year.

The Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) awarded the Division their highest award: the Award of Excellence. The Helicopter Unit applied for accreditation from the Airborne Law Enforcement Association. The Division's Crime Lab is also accredited, thus making the Columbus Division of Police the only major city police department to be recognized for accomplishing these national best-practice standards.

The Division continued to monitor the calls for service of the Patrol precincts since the major redistricting that was accomplished in 2010, and minor tweaking was done to balance the workload across the City. Some precinct boundaries were adjusted and cruiser districts were added where needed.

Twenty-five supervisors attended the U.S. Army War College's Strategic Leader Staff Ride. This three-day training seminar took place in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. An all-day training session was conducted at the battlefields of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania to teach the attendees that leadership is timeless, and the lessons learned from the past can still have direct application to the challenges we face today.

I announced my retirement in November. The effective date would be January 13, 2012. It was an unbelievable honor to be sworn in as the Chief of Police of this outstanding organization. The men and women of the Columbus Division of Police are the best of the best, and the citizens of Columbus are well-served by their dedication and work ethic.

A Message from the Public Safety Director

As the Director of Public Safety and on behalf of Mayor Michael B. Coleman, I want to thank the men and woman of the Columbus Division of Police for their commitment to serve and protect the residents of Columbus and uphold the Constitution of the United States. I also commend the Division for their recent re-accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc. (CALEA) for having successfully met numerous internationally recognized professional police standards with excellence.

In 2011, the Division of Police lost nearly 90 officers mainly due to the Deferred Retirement Option Plan, also known as DROP. This unfunded state mandate allows experienced officers to delay their retirement for up to eight years, while investing the pension payments they would have received in an interest-bearing account as they continue to work. To help alleviate some of the distress from the large number of departures and movement within the Division, nearly 200 officers have been hired in the last two years and an additional 80 officers will be hired in 2012. The Division of Police should end 2012 with the largest force in the history of the division.

As the Division continues to make advancements in technology, officers assisted in the implementation of the 2011 Neighborhood Safety Camera Pilot Program in five selected neighborhoods. The neighborhoods were chosen by analyzing crime data, input from police officers, availability of infrastructure, potential impact on crime, and most importantly, neighborhood support. Throughout the selected neighborhoods, 114 cameras were installed in “hot spot” areas and monitored during high crime times of the week. While the cameras will not eliminate crime, they are being effective in reducing criminal activity in those areas.

The Columbus Division of Police continues to be one of the best 21st century law enforcement agencies because of its outstanding people, commitment to technological innovations, and first-class facilities. In 2011, we continued our focus on reducing violent crime in Columbus neighborhoods through the Community Safety Initiative (CSI), which resulted in 213 felony arrests and 148 guns taken off the street; began the design phase of the new Crime Lab and Property Room; had a 69 percent reduction in air conditioner theft reports during our 30-day air conditioner moratorium; expanded the Columbus Focus on Safety Program with 12 additional photo red light enforced intersections and will add eight additional intersections in 2012; and took delivery of 51 new police cruisers and six motorcycles, and purchased two S.W.A.T. raid vans and one helicopter.

As I look forward to 2012, Chief Walter Distelzweig is expected to retire in mid-January. I want to take this opportunity to thank him for his 39 years of service to the City of Columbus and congratulate him on a successful career in law enforcement. His commitment to the core values of the Division was commendable and he demonstrated them daily in his personal and professional relationships.

Our commitment to public service and public safety will remain our motivation in the mission to make Columbus the best city in the nation to live, work and raise a family. Thank you for your determination and strength, and for inspiring us all to be the best.

Keep up the good work!

CALEA Certificate

Standards of Excellence

The Columbus Division of Police officially received its 5th CALEA Accreditation on July 30th, 2011. The Division was also awarded the most prestigious award offered to accredited agencies, the Award with Excellence. The Division was internationally recognized in front of police peers from across the United States, Canada, and Mexico. This is the first time in 15 years that the Division has been recognized with the highest honor possible. The accreditation process is a demanding one, but it ensures that an accredited agency is following the most current and best practices in providing police services to the citizens it serves. The Division did extremely well during this process and received many accolades from the community and the CALEA assessors who stated:

“During this on-site, the assessors reviewed policies and procedures, visited several departmental facilities, and interacted with dozens of officers and civilian staff. The men and women of the CDP that we encountered were unfailingly courteous, professional, and helpful, both to us and to the Columbus citizens with whom we observed them come in contact. They keep the department’s equipment and facilities in immaculate condition and by their professional demeanor, it is clear that the members of the agency take justifiable pride in their department.”

“As previously stated the Columbus Division of Police has exhibited a true dedication to not only the CALEA standards for Law Enforcement Accreditation but also to the intent and spirit of accreditation. They have exceeded many of the standards, used the standards to excel in their professionalism and improve the lives of those citizens they are sworn to protect and serve. CALEA Accreditation is pervasive throughout the entire organizational culture of the agency and receives the full support and encouragement of the Chief of Police.”

The 3-year time period for which the Division attained CALEA’s highest praise and recognition award was marked with unprecedented challenges, including a continuing rise in violent assaults toward our officers, a budgetary crisis adversely affecting staffing levels and available resources, vast changes in organizational structure and technology, significant personnel loss and turnover related to the Deferred Retirement Option Plan (DROP), significant changeover in Division leadership positions, and growing demands being placed upon all Division personnel daily. During these challenging times, the Division and its personnel continued to demonstrate their deep commitment to excellence.

Major Drug Bust

Officers in the Strategic Response Bureau conducted an 18-month methamphetamine investigation in conjunction with the Ohio High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) task force. The investigation resulted in indictments against 40 suspects of more than 100 criminal counts ranging from drug possession and manufacture of methamphetamine to burglary and identity fraud. The operation recovered over five pounds of crystal methamphetamine with a street value of $250,000 and 15 guns, including two submachine guns with working sound suppressors. Several search warrants were executed at multiple locations during the course of this investigation leading to the recovery of more than $100,000 in cash and seven gallons of liquid GHB (gamma-hydroxybutyrate) which is commonly referred to as the date-rape drug. During the execution of one search warrant, officers discovered that the suspects had ice cubes laced with GHB stored in the freezer ready to be used in drinks without the knowledge of the person receiving the drink. On June 22nd, 29 of the 40 suspects were arrested during a round-up.

Kidnapped

In August 2009, Special Victims Bureau Detective Jason Sprague initiated an investigation for a missing 7-year old child, whom her dad believed was taken by the non-custodial mother and her boyfriend. Sexual Assault Sergeant Terry McConnell became involved when it was determined that the suspects had taken the child out of state.

Sgt. McConnell and Det. Sprague began tracking the suspects and determined that they were members of a sovereign citizen's movement and had an extensive network of people and resources assisting them in their efforts to elude law enforcement and the child's father. Over the next two years, the officers laboriously researched records and developed leads. The investigation required the serving of numerous subpoenas for cellular phone records and IP addresses from banks. Based on the information, Sgt. McConnell narrowed the search to a location in Williston, Florida and secured an arrest warrant. Sgt.

McConnell contacted the United States Marshall (USM) office in Jacksonville, FL and requested their assistance. On June 14, members of the USM task force attempted to serve the warrant, but learned that the suspects had again fled with the child. An interview with the neighbor, disclosed that the child's hair had been died black and she was rarely seen by them.

The usual investigative techniques proved ineffective due to the suspects' knowledge on ways to avoid detection by using multiple phones while moving numerous times. Investigators wrote and executed numerous search warrants to obtain information on the fugitives and members of the Sovereign Citizens, an anti-government group. Based on the information developed from all the investigative information, collateral leads were sent to Florida, North Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and West Virginia. Additionally, the detectives worked with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and created an age-progressed photograph of the child that was distributed in the areas they believed she could be living.

The case was finally concluded when the detectives uncovered evidence and conducted search warrants at the homes of the suspects' parents, which led to the location of the suspects in the Atlanta, GA area. The officers discovered the suspects' approximate whereabouts by accessing call history on the parents' phones, post marks on letters, and locations entered into a GPS unit in a vehicle used by the mother's parents. The USM's Atlanta task force was contacted and forwarded a collateral lead. On the morning of October 14, 2011, the child was recovered safely and the suspects were arrested.

Sgt. Terry McConnell and Det. Jason Sprague travelled to the Cobb County Jail, Georgia and interviewed the suspects who confessed to having moved to residences in four different states in an effort to keep the child hidden and avoid arrest. Sgt. McConnell then ensured the now 9-year old child was safe and in the custody of Georgia Family Services, and arranged for her return to Columbus by air travel with the protection of the USM. He then personally met the plane and witnessed the child's transfer to Franklin County Children's Services, as they had temporary custody pending her reunification with her father.

Property Crimes Bureau personnel

Property Crimes Bureau

At the beginning of the year, the Property Crimes Bureau was investigating an increase in the number of air conditioner thefts across the city.

The Division joined with the Mayor, City Council members, Franklin County Prosecutor, Institute of Scrap Recycling Industries and Nationwide Insurance in announcing a 30-day moratorium on the purchasing of air conditioner units and parts by local scrap metal facilities. During this 30-day period, air conditioner thefts decreased 69%. After the moratorium ended, the scrap metal facilities were reminded by the EPA that they must comply with the Clean Air Act as it pertains to the buying and selling of items that currently contain or did contain refrigerant, and the civil penalties of up to $37,500 per day that could be assessed in addition to criminal fines and possible imprisonment. The Crime Stoppers of Central Ohio, Nationwide Insurance, and the Institute of Scrap Recycling Industries also offered cash rewards for any information leading to the arrest of persons responsible for air conditioner thefts.

The Property Crimes Bureau personnel have begun participating in group activities, outside of work, such as going on an outing to a Columbus Clippers game and volunteering with the Children's Hunger Alliance, which provided a meal to 500 children and an opportunity to ice skate at a local ice rink.

Division of Police personnel from multiple bureaus volunteered for the Children's Hunger Alliance Skate Party

Crimes Against Persons Bureau

The Crimes Against Persons Bureau initiated a program to obtain DNA swabs from recovered firearms. Commander Mary Mathias and Crime Lab Manager Jami St. Clair completed an analysis of the program, the only known one in the state, and plan to write an article outlining the program's success for the IACP Forensic Committee.

The Crime Scene Search Unit purchased an instrument called RUVIS, which uses ultra-violet light to allow an investigator to see evidence such as fingerprints and body fluids that are not visible to the naked eye.

Child Predator Task Force

In June 2009, the Exploited Children Unit joined the Westerville Police Department and Franklin County Sheriff's Department to form the Franklin County Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force. Since that time, the task force has grown to include a total of seven police agencies from the central Ohio area and includes representatives from the FBI, ICE, and the United States Marshall's Office. COPS and JAG grants obtained by the task force allowed the members to undergo extensive training in the investigation of internet crimes involving child pornography and child enticement, and provided funds for the purchase of computer and forensic equipment that are critical for investigating these cases.

Since June 2009, 232 search warrants have been obtained and served, and 265 arrests of predators targeting children for sexual purposes have been made. Arrests have cut across the social spectrum and have included former coaches, teachers, an attorney, and an orthopedic surgical resident. Prior to the task force being formed, the true depth of the internet dangers facing our children could barely be imagined. As a result of the task force's success, they received an award in May 2011 from United States Attorney General Eric Holder, and an award in November of 2011 from the Ohio Internet Crimes against Children Task Force based in Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

Serial Burglar Nabbed

In late January 2011, Detective Brian Lacy started investigating an unusual series of thirty-seven early-morning burglaries that involved a white male entering female college students' apartments, in some cases multiple times, with the use of a key and watching them as they slept. If the victim, usually in her bed, would confront the suspect he would shine a flashlight in her eyes temporarily blinding her so he could make his escape. Most of the time the suspect locked the door on his way out leaving the victim to question how he entered the residence. The suspect stole small items such as SD memory cards and jewelry without the victims' knowledge. The first known incident was at Capital University in Bexley, Ohio in early July 2010. The next known incident occurred in the fall of 2010 in the OSU Campus area and continued until the arrest of the suspect in early February 2011.

Detective Lacy reviewed a report generated by Crime Analyst Jackie Chappelle, and noticed that all the locations were located a block or two off High St. between 5th and Norwich Avenues. Detective Lacy believed that the suspect was using the bus system, Central Ohio Transit Authority, (COTA) to travel from one victim's location to the next victim's location. The intruder would sometimes go into two apartments or three in the same day and there seemed to be some traveling time in-between the incidents. The times of the occurrences were also very consistent, with most occurring between 5:30 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. The description of the intruder was a taller male white, 6' in height, medium build, younger looking, carrying a flashlight, a camera or a cell phone with a camera. The intruder was also seen with a striped toboggan, khaki or black jacket, and had dark brown hair.

Detective Lacy analyzed the incidents and was able to place undercover plain-clothes officers in the area of the highest percentage of occurrences. On February 11, 2011, the suspect was observed in the area by the undercover officers and by the victims attempting to enter their apartment while four females were inside. The same apartment had been broken into several times in the past where an intruder shined a flashlight on them while they were in bed. The suspect was observed by undercover officers leaving the building and was stopped, positively identified by the victims, and arrested. The suspect had on his person a flashlight, camera, condoms, and two sets of keys that were later found to fit the locks or match the keys of the victims at thirteen of the burglary locations.

A search warrant on the suspect's motel room provided Detective Lacy with another camera, numerous SD memory cards, and a petite female's flower ring. Detective Lacy was able to identify the owners of the camera, the ring, and all the SD memory cards. The owners of the SD memory cards were found by identifying the photographs of the victims that the suspect "deleted" in attempts to hide the true identity of the owners. All the property found belonged to the victims of this series of burglaries. Detective Lacy also located a "deleted" photograph of the suspect on a stolen SD memory card time stamped at 4:30AM when he took a picture of himself. The camera was stolen that morning from a locked Capital University female's apartment. During his interview, the suspect made damaging statements placing him at the scene of a few of the break-ins. The suspect, by his own admission, has a history of watching, stalking and assaulting females.

Narcotics Bureau

The Narcotics Bureau is comprised of the following units: Investigative A-E, IN-TAC, Pharmaceutical, and Vice. The personnel in the drug-related units arrested 515 suspects and seized 309 firearms of various sizes, drugs and controlled substances with a street value of $29.2 million, and $4.2 million in cash. Bureau personnel conducted 414 search warrants, 10 controlled deliveries, and 150 package seizures. The drugs seized included: crack/cocaine, ecstasy, heroin, khat, LSD, marijuana, methamphetamine, mushrooms, pharmaceutical pills, and other types of controlled substances.

K-9 Capers

The Division's Canine Unit had another busy year. The nine dogs and their handlers were involved in 4,335 dispatched and 2,989 self-initiated runs. Of these 7,324 runs, 2,734 were runs requiring the canine's abilities. The canines conducted 262 building searches, 80 evidence searches, and 1,199 narcotics searches of structures, autos, or parcel packages. The dogs were involved in the recovery of various quantities of drugs with a street value of over $3.1 million, cash seizures totaling $1.4 million, and 30 handguns. The Canine Unit's officers issued 87 non-accident citations, 71 misdemeanor citations, and effected the arrest of 92 misdemeanants and 145 felons. The officers assisted in an additional 226 arrests. The canines were directly responsible for 315 of the arrests. The dogs also participated in 70 demonstrations around the community for various groups.

Computer Aided Dispatching (CAD) System

The Communications Bureau unveiled a new CAD system in June at a cost of $7 million and an install time of 19 months. The CAD Implementation Team was comprised of the following members of the Communications Bureau: Margaret Winter (Team leader), James Eggeman, Melissa Gantt, Christopher Iacoboni, Robert Little, Shannon Murray, Dale Thomas, and Lisa Waugh who worked to ensure that the changeover to the new Intergraph CAD system would go smoothly. The Team worked with the vendor to configure the software applications, into the workflow of the new system, attaining a high-level of operational effectiveness within just a few days. The new Intergraph CAD system allows dispatchers to utilize GPS information from Patrol cruisers to determine the location of those units and which ones might be closest to a call for service. Patrol supervisors are able to view a screen with the location of their officers and their status.

SWAT Ram

Beginning in April of 2010, Officer Dredrick Lane and Officer Randolph Rich began researching the addition of a battering ram to the SWAT Armored Vehicle so that SWAT officers would not have to use a hand-held battering ram and get so close to the doorway of buildings, especially since over 50% of the barricade situations involved high-powered assault weapons. The officers found a product, but it was limited in its usefulness, so they contacted Mr. Steve Donaldson, a machinist with the Fleet Management Division, about creating a custom-designed ram.

test and tweak the new system, and provide training to all of the Communication Technicians on the operation of the system. The Team assisted bureau personnel with questions and issues related to the operation of the new system during the hours and days immediately after the cutover. Due to the dedication and hard work of the Team, the switch to the new CAD system was a fairly smooth transition, and the staff was extremely well-prepared and quickly settled Officers Lane and Rich, along with Mr. Donaldson worked together to create a custom-designed system that would enable the ram to be raised or lowered using hydraulics from inside the vehicle; deploy tear gas from removable attachments connected to the ram; and be detachable, interchangeable, and applied within 5-10 minutes. During 2011, the device has been successfully utilized several times and the team has been sharing the design with armored vehicle manufacturers and other law enforcement agencies.

Technical Services Bureau

Identification Unit personnel have collected and submitted over 1300 DNA samples for comparison to BCI since July of 2011. These submissions were due to SB77, which mandated any law enforcement agency arresting a suspect on felony charges to submit DNA swabs.

Records Section personnel are now monitoring the LEADS Channel and responding to Patrol officers' requests for driver and vehicle information, which frees up the Communication Technicians in the Radio Room to answer the calls from the public and dispatch officers on the various calls for service across the City.

The Photo Lab acquired video/photo enhancement equipment called "Star Witness" that will be used by the unit to review surveillance video submitted by officers to enhance a suspect's features and hopefully lead to the identification and arrest of the suspect.

Mobile OVI Truck

The Division's Freeway Unit developed a Mobile OVI Truck to assist Patrol Officers with traffic stops where a suspected impaired driver is involved and for use at Division-initiated OVI/DUI checkpoints.

Sergeant Jeff Sowards wrote a grant for the unit in July, which the state approved. The idea for the Mobile OVI Truck came from Sgt. Sowards' attendance at safety seminars. After seeing and talking with law enforcement officers all over the southwest part of the country, and talking with a senior NHTSA official, Sgt. Sowards determined that this concept would be backed at the highest levels of the highway safety community in the country. These units are not uncommon in places like Austin, TX and Phoenix, AZ where they are a proven asset allowing the officers to make more OVI arrests a night by reducing the processing time. There are other similar units in Ohio, but they are dedicated entirely to checkpoints, and not utilized at this level. The vehicle's concept was vetted at the state and national level, along with input from the Ohio Department of Health (BAC machine) and the manufacturer of the machine.

The Division acquired a used medic unit that the Division of Fire was ready to auction. The medic unit was painted, and slight modifications were done, such as adding a police radio and a power inverter to handle the DataMaster BAC machine, creating shelves for supplies/paperwork, switching the colors of the beacons, adding a computer stand, and removing some of the oxygen canister holders and the stretcher locks on the floor. The Mobile OVI Truck is outfitted with all of the paperwork and equipment that officers would use if actually responding to the BAC Room in Central Police Headquarters. The deployment of the vehicle enables the officers to quickly process the suspected impaired driver at the scene and return to their regular duties. The truck is a tool to streamline the OVI arrest process. Since its roll-out in October of 2011, the traffic officers assigned to operate the Mobile OVI Truck have been deployed more than 133 times to help process impaired drivers, as follows: October-42 assists, November-18 assists, December-73 assists, and 22 assists to foreign agencies.

The Traffic Bureau also administered a grant to combat impaired driving during the holiday season (November 26, 2011 through January 3, 2012) and officers conducted 371 traffic stops, resulting in 5 felony arrests and 87 OVI arrests.

Traffic Bureau

The Accident Investigation Unit (AIU) personnel investigated 64 fatal and 41 serious injury crashes, and were assigned to investigate over 2,020 reports of the 11,608 hit-skip crashes that occurred. In addition to the crash investigations, AIU personnel assisted Patrol with OVI enhancements and felony fleeing charges. The unit's citations and arrests totaled 268 for the year.

Traffic Bureau personnel successfully lobbied the Columbus City Council to amend Title 21 (Traffic) of the Columbus City Code to include police officers with firefighters in enforcing violations of the hazardous materials laws by commercial carriers.

National Night Out

The Division participated in the 28th Annual National Night Out on August 2, 2011. The Strategic Response Bureau's Community Liaison Section began planning in November 2010 in order to increase the number of participating block watches, civic and community organizations, and business sponsors. A kick-off event was planned for July 23, 2011, at the Far East Community Center on Lattimer Drive. This event was organized by Ms. Summer Moynihan of the Tussing Block Watch who rallied community support for the kick-off event, coordinated volunteers from the other eastside block watches to help, secured donated food and drinks for the attendees, and participated in the set-up and clean-up for the event. The event featured safety equipment from various agencies around Central Ohio, booths staffed by members of various groups promoting safety, music by local radio stations, and activities for the kids.

Due to the hard work of Lt. Scott Bartholow and the Community Liaison Unit personnel, there was a 60% increase in the number of groups hosting National Night Out events, from 84 groups in 2010 to 138 in 2011. Many of the Division's Executive and General Staff members (Chief, Deputy Chiefs, and Commanders) made appearances at various block parties and events scheduled throughout the City to talk to the citizens and encourage their efforts in preventing crime in their neighborhoods.

For cities with a population of over 300,000, Columbus ranked 9th in the nation for the level of community involvement and participation based on the final report that was submitted by the Division to the National Association of Town Watch, the program's coordinating committee. The top ten cities and/or counties were as follows:

1. Minneapolis, MN
2. Houston/Harris County, TX
3. San Antonio, TX
4. Austin, TX
5. Los Angeles County, CA
6. Arlington, TX
7. Chesterfield County, VA
8. Travis County, TX
9. Columbus, OH
10. Collin County, TX

Real Time Crime Center

The Division implemented a Real Time Crime Center (RTCC) on a trial basis from October 6th to November 19th. The RTCC was staffed Thursday through Saturday between the hours of 2PM and 12AM. The RTCC's mission was to provide actionable intelligence in real time, which enhances officer safety, expedites the investigation of criminal activity, and streamlines the processing of criminal arrests. The lieutenant assigned to the RTCC viewed Priority 1-3 calls/runs as they were received, and added information to the runs developed through intelligence databases. This information was also kept in daily activity logs and posted to the RTCC portal on the Division's intranet.

Shop with a Cop

The 2011 Shop with a Cop event was held on December 8th at two local Target stores. Columbus Police Officers took 30 kids on shopping trips to purchase toys and needed items thanks to donations from Target and FOP Lodge #9. The program expanded this year by 10 kids, and by involving other suburban departments in the area that held their own events at other Targets around Columbus.

Continuity

This year, there was a 60% increase in sworn retirements over 2010, mainly due to the DROP program. The Division lost 89 sworn employees with more than 3,100 combined years of service.

The retirees included 37 supervisors and 52 officers with an average of approximately 35 years of service. The City of Columbus started a class of 65 recruits in June, of which 60 graduated from the Academy on December 16, 2011 and began their coaching with Field Training Officers on the streets. The next recruit class of 35 individuals entered the Academy on December 26th, 2011, and will graduate in June 2012.

In addition to the sworn retirements, the Division lost 13 civilian employees due to retirements, a 62.5% increase over 2010, and the civilian retirees had an average of 29 years of service each.

Dress-Down Days

The Division's Dress-down Days for civilian employees on Fridays for which they paid a nominal fee, allowed the Adopt-A-Family Committee to help 26 families and 1 senior citizen organization during the 2011 holiday season. The Committee spent a total of $7102.70 to purchase food, clothing, and toys for families and individuals in need of assistance.

CPD History Committee

Remembering the history of the Division of Police and preserving it for future generations is integral to our future. Many of our members are second and third generation members of the Columbus Police. Our active and retired members possess so much history about the Division that needs to be captured and shared. Therefore the Division developed a volunteer committee of active and retired members to research the Division's history and preserve it for future generations. This will enable the Division to honor those who made the Columbus Division of Police the best law enforcement agency in the country while at the same time acknowledging the evolution of law enforcement in Columbus.

Training Bureau

The 116th Recruit Class started at the training academy on December 6, 2010, with 54 individuals. Over the ensuing 27 weeks of grueling training, the recruits learned about the Division's policies and procedures, City Codes, defensive tactics, driving techniques, report taking, and numerous other subjects. On June 10, 2011, 49 of the recruits (46 males and 3 females) graduated, and the following recruits were recognized at the graduation ceremony for attaining the highest score or outstanding performance:

Scholastic Award—David Gitlitz (98% GPA)

Shooter's Trophy—Jason Kulp (868 out of 900 possible points in firearms)

Physical Fitness Award—Joshua Cramer (487 out of 500 possible points)

Defensive Tactics Award of Excellence—David Gitlitz

Recruits learning field force tactics.

The 117th Recruit Class started at the training academy on June 13, 2011, with 65 individuals, and on December 16, 2011, 60 of the recruits (52 males and 8 females) graduated. The following recruits were recognized at the graduation ceremony:

Scholastic Award—Aaron Getzinger (98.3% GPA)

Shooter's Trophy—Darrell Fenske (847 out of 900 possible points in firearms)

Physical Fitness Award—Amy Detweiler (496 out of 500 possible points)

Defensive Tactics Award of Excellence—Kasey Hill

On December 26th, the 118th Recruit Class entered the Academy with 35 recruits...to be continued!

Deputy Chief Retirement

Deputy Chief Gary J. Thatcher originally joined the Division as an Auxiliary Officer (now called Reserves) in 1975, while he was a teacher at Olentangy High School where he taught English, Drama, and Speech. After serving two years as an Auxiliary Officer, he entered the Police Academy on September 18, 1977 to fulfill his dream to become a full-time officer. As a patrol officer he was assigned to "B" Company Patrol. He served as a Field Training Officer for eleven officers, and also as an instructor at the training academy teaching English, Public Speaking, and Report Writing to numerous recruit classes. He was an OPOTA-Certified Special Topics Instructor.

Deputy Chief Thatcher quickly rose through the supervisory ranks. He was promoted to Sergeant in January of 1984, and worked on "B" Company Patrol; Lieutenant in August of 1987, where he served in Patrol; Captain (now Commander) in October of 1989, where he oversaw "B" Company Patrol, Business & Personnel Bureau, and the Management Information Bureau; and finally Deputy Chief on April 27, 1992, where he was in charge of the Investigative, Patrol East, Administrative, and Support Services Subdivisions.

Deputy Chief Thatcher was very active in contract negotiations and labor relations issues, having served on five contract bargaining teams for the City. He has also served as the Chairperson of the Awards Committee for the past 12 years.

Other notable retirements this year include...

Officer Nicole Miller, the Division's last policewoman. Officer Miller was hired as a policewoman in 1971 and immediately began serving in the Juvenile Bureau; at that time, females were not allowed to work in Patrol. Officer Miller spent her entire career in the Detective Bureau, working assignments in the Juvenile Bureau, Sexual Abuse Unit, and third shift Robbery Squad.

Sergeant Maxine (Cummings) Eggleston was the last remaining female from the 54th Recruit Class which began on October 19, 1975, and was the first class to include ten females who were hired as patrol officers versus policewomen. Officer Eggleston was assigned to various assignments on B Company before moving to the CSSU and Burglary Units. Upon her promotion, Sergeant Eggleston returned to Patrol, and then was in charge of the Training Bureau's Midwatch Ordnance Unit. In 2001, Sgt. Eggleston transferred to the Narcotics INTAC Unit, and in 2006 returned to supervise the CSSU.

The 10 females of the 54th Recruit Class blazed the trail for the current 218 females on the Division, which now include a Deputy Chief, four Commanders, five Lieutenants, 16 Sergeants, and 192 Officers.

Chief of Police Walter L. Distelzweig with Officer James McCoskey

Officer James "Jim" McCoskey joined the Division on March 26, 1972. He held various Patrol assignments, and completed a 6-month Detective Bureau training program before transferring to the CSSU in January of 1980. He spent a year in CSSU before transferring to Burglary for a year, and from there he went to Robbery for 2.5 years. On September 23, 1984, Officer McCoskey transferred to the Homicide Squad, where he remained until his retirement on March 18, 2011.

Officer McCoskey was instrumental in changing the way the Division's Detective Bureau was organized. He recommended creating units within the bureau, so that instead of the Homicide Unit handling all of the violent crimes, the crimes such as assaults, domestic violence, and cold cases would be handled by specialized units. Officer McCoskey trained many of the current detectives, and he also trained patrol officers on how to handle crime scenes and suspects in order to preserve evidence and help with convictions. He investigated hundreds of homicide cases, at least 30 of which involved the death of a child, and was known for not getting upset and always having a gentle voice.

Badge #1 Recognition

The Senior Patrol Officer-Bill Smith Memorial Award aka “Badge #1 Award” changed hands several times during 2011. This award is presented to the most senior officer working a uniformed Patrol precinct assignment. The criteria for the award requires that the recipients spend a minimum of 15 years in Patrol, have been in a Patrol assignment for five consecutive years immediately prior to becoming eligible for the award, be in a regular-duty status, have no sustained departmental charges in the previous four years, have two or less written reprimands in the previous two years, and not currently be under investigation for actions that might result in departmental charges or a written reprimand.

Upon Officer Rexford Eskins’ retirement in February after 35 years in Patrol assignments, Officer Charles Romine was recognized as the most senior officer in Patrol. In April, after 33 years in Patrol, Officer Romine retired and Officer Richard Hault became the Senior Patrol Officer. Officer Hault retired in December of 2011 after 33 years of service in Patrol assignments. Officer Judith Beckwith became the recipient of the Senior Patrol Officer Award at that time.

Deputy Chief Gammill with classmate Officer Judy Beckwith at Badge #1 ceremony.

Officer Beckwith has served the citizens of the 11 Precinct in Columbus in a patrol capacity on third shift for over 32 years. She has interacted with several generations of the same families that live on the precinct. Overall, Officer Beckwith is currently the 14th most senior officer on the Division. Officer Beckwith came on the Division just four years after the City of Columbus began hiring female recruits who went through the entire academy training process and were classified as “officers” and assigned to patrol duties, versus the former “police women” who were only assigned to duties in the Juvenile, Detective, or Community Relations Bureaus.

Chief James G. Jackson (RET.) and Lieutenant Karl Barth
50 years of service to the Division.

50 Years of Service

On September 25, 1961, Karl Barth entered the Division’s Training Academy. Upon his graduation in December he was assigned to the Motorcycle Squad, and then 6 years later he was assigned to the Training Academy. He was promoted to sergeant in 1970, and worked various Patrol assignments and with the Mobile Crime Scene Unit, the precursor to the Division’s CSSU, until being promoted to Lieutenant in September of 1978.

Lt. Barth spent a year in the Community Relations Unit, and then transferred to the Traffic Bureau’s Special Events Section. He has spent the past 32 years helping to organize presidential motorcades with Secret Service, traffic control for marathons and parade routes, and security and traffic control for festivals and events around Columbus.

On September 26, 2011, Lt. Barth was joined at the Training Academy by both retired and active Division members to celebrate his 50 years of service to the City of Columbus. He was quick to point out that this was not a retirement party... and the legend continues.

Internal Affairs Bureau

The Internal Affairs Bureau (IAB) investigates complaints made by the public against Division personnel. The IAB supervisors received 2,403 calls and letters from the public and investigated 468 citizen complaints (down 10.7% from 2010) involving 1200 different allegations. The top three allegations included: actions the officer did or did not take (292), rude and discourteous language or actions (237), and use of force (112). The breakdown of the findings for the 1,090 allegations included in the 468 investigations is as follows:

- 428 Unfounded (various)
- 186 Not Sustained (various)
- 16 Withdrawn
- 212 Exonerated or within Policy / Procedure
- 173 Sustained
- 13 Cancelled for Cause
- 37 Unfounded per Article 8.12 of the current collective bargaining agreement
- 65 Information Only
- 16 Unable to Resolve
- 54 Pending

Foreign Internship

Sergeant Robert Mueller of the Berlin Federal Police came to the Division in February of 2011 to begin his stay in America; Sergeant Mueller was paired up with Sergeant Steve Livingston of CPD who hosted and arranged his activities while here in Columbus. The Columbus Division of Police has been a frequent host to members of foreign law enforcement agencies. Many European countries require their promotional candidates to take college courses and participate in a 4-5 week foreign internship during the last semester of study to expose them to new ideas and real-world experiences that they can apply to their new assignment.

Arrangements were made with personnel in Patrol, Motorcycles, Heliport, SWAT, Narcotics, Vice, K9, the Training Academy, the Strategic Response Bureau, the Columbus Division of Fire Bomb Squad, and the Ohio Joint Terrorism Fusion Center to host, train, and teach Sgt. Mueller during his stay. He was also able to see local sporting events such as Ohio State basketball, Blue Jackets hockey, and a Cleveland State basketball game while he was here, along with visits to Cirque du Soleil, Wright Patterson Air Force Base, and even German Village.

Just prior to beginning his internship, Sgt. Mueller learned from his grandmother that her uncle, Hugo Richter, had left Germany and settled in the Cleveland, Ohio area in the late 1890s. The information known to Sgt. Mueller was that Mr. Richter's first name was changed to Henry by clerks at Ellis Island; he had fought in the Spanish-American War for the USA; he became a police officer; and after 1925 the family never heard from him again. Sgt. Mueller advised Sgt. Livingston of these details and asked he if he could help him track down information

Sgt. Livingston and Sgt. Mueller visiting the Greater Cleveland Police Officers Memorial.

Sgt. Livingston discovered an entry on the Officer Down Memorial Page for a Henry Richter who was a Cleveland Police Officer that had been killed in the line of duty back in February 1925 during a robbery stakeout. Sgt. Livingston made arrangements with the Greater Cleveland Peace Officers' Memorial and the IPA to host a special tribute to Henry Richter at the Cleveland Police Memorial site on the 25th of February, 2011, 86 years to the day of his death in the line of duty. Sgt. Mueller was taken to the Greater Cleveland Police Officers' Memorial for a special ceremony and remembrance of Patrolman Richter. It was a powerful day for all who learned of it; generations had passed and no other family members had ever joined the police service, but yet here was a family member now, in the United States, interning at a police department in Ohio, and able to pay tribute to a fallen hero/ancestor.

Police Officer Tom Hayes

Thomas Hayes joined the Division on December 3, 1972. He married his wife, Mary, in 1973. Seven years later, on December 18, 1979, Officer Hayes walked into a convenience store to check on the report of a couple of teens creating a disturbance. The teens had been drinking, smoking marijuana, and had taken LSD. When Officer Hayes attempted to arrest them a scuffle ensued and one of the teens drew a gun and shot the officer in the back. The gunshot caused Officer Hayes to be paralyzed from the waist down. The teenagers were caught, charged, and convicted of felonious assault and illegal possession of a firearm.

The shooting, trial, and Officer Hayes' recovery were in the news headlines for months. Children sent him Christmas cards, and a Gahanna lawyer set up a fund that eventually was used to build Hayes a handicapped-accessible home.

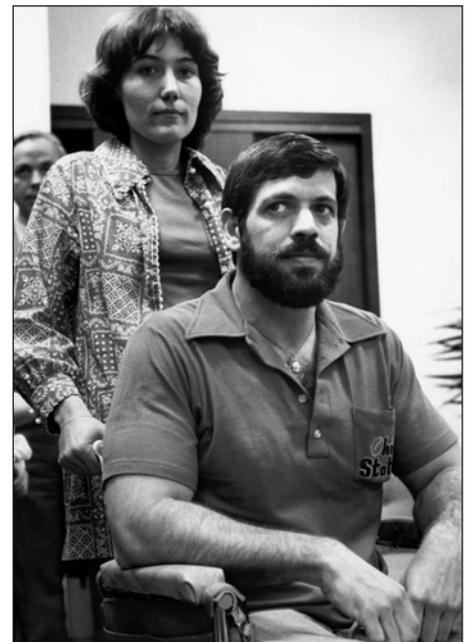

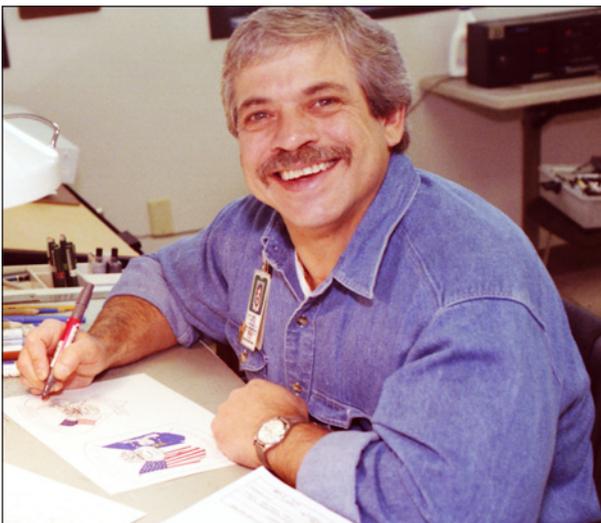

On Wednesday, February 25, 1981, Police Chief Earl Burden presented Officer Hayes with his service badge with the word "Retired" above the badge number after his disability retirement was approved. In 1984, Hayes served as campaign manager for Eugene Watts, who was running as the Republican candidate for the 16th Ohio Senate District. Hayes explained that he went to work for Watts because he felt that the democratic incumbent hadn't protected the citizens against predatory criminals. In 1986, Hayes was hired as a civilian police artist to fill the vacancy created in 1981 by the retirement of Officer Bill Needles. He was tasked with developing composite drawings of suspects, illustrating police publications and pamphlets, and designing recruitment and promotional material. Hayes made the original drawings for the design of the Columbus Police Memorial, on which his name is now permanently etched. He retired from the Division for a second time in 1997.

Officer Hayes continued to suffer serious health issues as a result of his wound, including the amputation of one of his legs in 2005. He was frequently fighting infections, and they seemed to get worse as he aged. In 2010, he suffered a heart attack. His wife Mary stayed by his side throughout his ordeal, and between their devotion and Tom's deep faith in God they persevered, even though Reverend Lutz administered last rites a few times over the years due to medical complications that kept occurring. Retired Officer and Police Artist Tom Hayes died at home on January 20, 2011, at the age of 61.
