

City Council

Department Description

Columbus City Council is the chief policy-making arm of city government, empowered by City Charter to exercise legislative control over city expenditures. Citizens elect the seven-member council at-large to four-year terms of office. Primary responsibilities include adopting the annual operating and capital budgets, authorizing certain contracts, and enacting amendments to the Columbus City Code. In addition to fiscal control and regulatory authority, Council establishes land use policy through its zoning powers.

The Council works closely with the administrative branch of city government in the formation of policy, including work force and economic development initiatives, tax incentives, annexation and land use, and efforts to serve Columbus families. As well, City Council initiates and facilitates on-going cooperative efforts with other governments, the business community, and other institutions to ensure a safe environment and a high quality of life for all Columbus citizens.

Legislative Research Office (LRO) activities include public policy analyses, including the budget and city programming, public information efforts, and research and application efforts to reduce operating costs, both on a citywide basis and within the offices of City Council and the City Clerk.

Legislative aides and the LRO provide Council members advice and information regarding budgetary, neighborhood, community, and economic development matters.

Council appoints the City Clerk, who maintains the journal of Council activity, codifying general ordinances and maintaining custody of deeds, abstracts, and titles owned by the city. Council also appoints the City Treasurer, whose duties include the investment of all city funds.

Department Mission

Members of the staff of Columbus City Council believe our first priority is to provide high quality, responsive service to the people of Columbus. We strive to demonstrate the utmost respect for our citizens and for each other in a workplace that highly values teamwork, personal integrity, and competence. Our overriding goal is to always do our best for the citizens of the City of Columbus.

Strategic Priorities for 2010

City Council's 2010 strategic priorities will be met by its continued focus on three areas: working to better serve the needs of all Columbus families, including keeping public safety as the city's top priority; job creation efforts through fostering effective partnerships; and continued belt tightening to maintain fiscal health.

- Council believes that creating and maintaining jobs is essential to a vibrant city. Council will continue to work with the administration to develop innovative collaborations to incentivize significant private investment in what traditionally would have been primarily publicly funded projects. Prime examples include ongoing development of a Technology Corridor, revitalization of the Northland corridor, continued support of growing sectors of the local economy such as hospital expansion and high-tech start-ups, and continued investment in the downtown at the RiverSouth district. Project partners include the Ohio State University, Battelle, the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, and Tech Columbus, among others. The implementation of a new growth policy that calls on developers and suburbs to share in the cost of needed infrastructure and services such as roads and safety services exemplifies this new approach, commonly called "sustainable growth." These efforts will continue and be expanded elsewhere.
- Other key points of an overall job creation strategy include working to keep homegrown talent through investments that support entrepreneurial startups; making targeted capital investments to bring idle properties back into production; and providing seed money for targeted economic development initiatives, such as traffic studies and retail studies, to improve job growth prospects. Council seeks to continue working with the Departments of Technology and Development to enhance the city's fiber optic network and utilize it as an asset for economic development incentives.
- To enhance citizen safety, in addition to working with the administration to better equip police officers and firefighters, Council has funded expansions of the Community Crime Patrol (citizen patrollers who supplement police efforts) in each year from 2006 through 2008. Expanded duties include assisting in code enforcement matters.
- Council also looks forward to working with the Department of Public Safety to properly prepare for the DROP program, which will trigger automatic retirements among police and fire personnel in 2011.
- Council continues to identify and implement better business practices to make government more effective and accessible to the public.
- Council continues to work with the administration to secure downtown stability through the creation of greater downtown and neighborhood housing opportunities. City assistance may include various incentives for developers, such as tax abatements or targeted use of city capital monies to leverage private investments.
- Council will also continue working with the administration to encourage other political jurisdictions to practice "responsible development," as demonstrated in the efforts to preserve the Big Darby watershed. To protect this important natural resource, Council imposed a moratorium on city sewer and water line extensions in the watershed through June 2006. This allowed for completion of a comprehensive, intergovernmental planning accord (the Big Darby Accord Watershed Master Plan) which Columbus approved in July 2006 along with other jurisdictions. The accord allows for the exercise of personal property rights while being sensitive to preservation and environmental protection objectives.

- The city's most vulnerable citizens will continue to receive Council attention as it works with community advocates such as the Columbus Medical Association, the United Way, the Community Shelter Board, the Neighborhood Health Center System, and the YWCA. These organizations and others bring needed social services and accessible health care to low-income families and populations within the community. To bring added focus and more effective response to homelessness, Council worked with the administration in 2007 to create an Office of Homeless Advocacy.
- One of the most important priorities for the 2010 budget will be implementation of the first phases of the Reform and Efficiency plan to strengthen the city's long-term fiscal outlook and begin restoring the Economic Stabilization Fund, or "rainy day" fund. Council will also work with the City Auditor to continue sound fiscal policies to maintain Columbus' AAA bond-rating.

2010 Budget Notes

- The recommended general fund budget for City Council includes continuation of funding for a contract with the Greater Columbus Chamber of Commerce, the annual maintenance on the automated legislation system (Legistar), and codifying services for the City Clerk's office.
